Miguel Flatow is a young man from Chiapas who has been recognized by the Cannes World Film Festival for his film Va por Diego, a production (<https://www.milenio.com/espectaculos/television/netflix-ira-juicio-demanda-gambito-dama>) that was recorded with a cell phone and took first place in the category of Best Feature Film Filmed with a Cell Phone.

Through social networks, Cannes World Film Festival announced that Vapor Diego, a film by Miguel Flatow won in the category where they played several films that were recorded with a cell phone, which shows us that whoever proposes it can make a short or feature film just using the camera of a mobile device.

Va por Diego is a film that tells the story of a young man who is in serious health who must undergo several expensive operations, so his brother sees how to get the sum of money, that's when he sees the opportunity to participate in a soccer tournament, which gives the winner a prize of one hundred thousand pesos.

"Each party represents life or death, if they win, the brother is saved and if not, he dies," the director said in an interview for Alert Chiapas.

Va por Diego was recorded in Chiapas and features the participation of former soccer player Luis Hernández, better known as El Matador. Also from actor Luis Guillén, who on Facebook published the news about the award that the film received.
